APPOINTMENT OF NATIONAL SECRETARY GENERAL

The BFASA Executive, under the leadership of President Dr Lennox Xolile Mtshagi is pleased to announce the appointment of Mr. Glen Clack as National Secretary General with immediate effect.

Glen lives in Cape Town now and has offered his support and expertise to BFASA (The Black Farmers Association) in their efforts to provide members with an antidote to land expropriation without compensation. Land is Power but Knowledge is the Currency.

Previously, Glen spent more than 2 decades in the Cinema and Broadcast Industry and is well respected worldwide for his immense knowledge and passion for the Broadcast Industry. Customers, peers and colleagues always know that when Glen commits to something that it will be done.

Glen has a very strong work ethic that is based on the fundamental belief that "The Customer is King" and "Get it right first time" and encourages the same work ethic from everyone in his team. As a perfectionist he leads the team by example by continuously striving for perfection and expecting others to follow his lead. His direct approach of open, honest and concise communication always allows for people to know exactly where they stand. Glen is energetic and aggressive, however he is always sensitive to the needs and abilities of others.

His passion for developing people to their full potential is reflected in creating a working environment of positive pressures thereby enhancing productivity. Glen is a person of strong character. His presence has a direct impact on the people around him. He will always go the extra mile to help people in his professional or personal circle. His positive attitude and hard work always provides a win-win combination for everybody.

You can count on him to follow up thoroughly on all business issues at all levels in a timely and very professional manner but he also values the personal side of his working relationship with people and will make your day by sending you a birthday wish or congratulating you on your anniversary. Glen is an excellent business development executive, with strong inter personnel skills.

His vast experience is an asset and provides immense benefit to your customer base.

Glen has 5 children which he refers to as his 5 monuments.

He strives to teach all his children what can be achieved when you set your mind to do something and as a result his children are all accomplished in their respective fields of expertise.

Please join us in welcoming him to his new position and wish him well.
