MILNERTON, CAPE TOWN, 8001

To Shammi Bhudlu,

My name is Shammi Bhudlu, residing in the Western Cape, Milnerton, Cape Town. My academic qualifications are a Diploma in Education, a Marketing Degree from Damelin College. My training as a teacher has helped me with my leadership skills because I've had to manage and guide young pupils through their formative schooling years which is quite a challenge if one is ill prepared. One has to be a role model as well. When I went through to the private sector, I had to be more self-disciplined, be a better communicator at all levels because I was somewhat on my own hence my first job in the private sector was commission based. I am an organized as well as a good planner.

The sales and marketing training I have gained has enabled me to understand clearly the sales and marketing processes employed in many of the industries because of the exposure I had been through, throughout the years of my working life. This exposure has honed my communication skills all round. My other strength is staff development and training as well as a good motivator which comes in handy when trying to get the full potential of the staff one is dealing with. I am always ready for any challenge put before me. I have also established a construction company that was merely focused on the Government Human Settlements, based at the Brackenfell Industria. Due to unforeseen circumstances I had to close down the company. I am the founding member of the Black Farmers Association Of South Africa, started off as a General-Secretary, now taken a role of being the National Treasurer.

Sincerely,
Shammi Bhudlu
